1. It is recommended that the provisional reports completed thus far for Project 6-52 be distributed to recipients on the attached list and the remaining reports be sent to the same addressees when completed. For mechanical reasons only fifty copies have been reproduced.

2. You will recall that we decided to try to salvage as many as possible of the stencils D/M prepared when these papers were issued to a few recipients as working papers. By doing so we have effected a significant economy of time and expense. The result has not been up to our usual standards, but we feel that it is more important to get these papers out promptly than to undertake any major retyping or change in format for esthetic reasons.

3. You will note that the project is broken up into many individual papers and annexes. This is due not only to the initial character of the project but also to the fact that the annexes will be limited in their distribution to the IAC and that some parts are Top Secret and must be handled separately.

4. [] and I are of the opinion that, as these papers come up for revision, we should put them out in an improved format. The summary and conclusions based on these papers will, of course, appear as a separate formal paper.
